

University Policies and Procedures

The Saint Peter's University's Student Code of Conduct was established to preserve and safeguard the learning environment, the community, properties, and processes that support University functions and our academic mission.

Inspired by our Jesuit and Catholic identity, Saint Peter's University provides our diverse community of learners with individual attention where students are inspired to excel intellectually, lead ethically, serve compassionately and promote justice in our ever-changing urban and global environment. Students who violate the Student Code of Conduct will be subject to disciplinary sanctions which promote their own personal development, protect the University community, and maintain order and stability on campus.

Saint Peter's University students agree to abide by, to become fully acquainted with, and comply with the University's policies. A list of the applicable policies to the Student Code of Conduct can be found below in alphabetical order.
