

Violation of the Law Policy

Saint Peter's University students are not permitted to violate any local, state, federal, or international law on campus, in other municipalities, or while participating in University-related events. The University retains the discretion to report suspected violations of state, local or federal law to appropriate law enforcement officials, at any time, regardless of the issuance of disciplinary charges against a student under the Student Code of Conduct. Failure to comply with this policy may result in student conduct action that is reflective of the severity of the policy violation.
