Rize Education Partnership Overview

Saint Peter's University has partnered with Rize Education to deliver high-quality, flexible online learning experiences that prepare students for today's evolving workforce.

About Our Online Programs

Rize Education specializes in bridging academic rigor with industry relevance. Through this partnership, students benefit from a curriculum enriched with current industry trends and expert insights.

The online format combines the convenience of online learning with the engagement of traditional campus experiences, creating a comprehensive and adaptable educational pathway.

For families, this means students graduate with the same respected Saint Peter's University degree—enhanced by practical, career-ready skills aligned with modern workforce demands.

What is Rize Education?

Rize Education collaborates with universities to deliver innovative academic programs that emphasize:

- Cutting-edge, industry-informed curriculum
